On the days when life feels a little less than amazing, remember: you've got this. You do. Even when the dinner's burnt or you missed an important event on the calendar or your hair has suddenly developed a mind of its own. Even when you feel invisible or misunderstood or unwanted. You've got this—because God's got you. Straight from the heart of popular Thistlewood Farms blogger KariAnne Wood comes this beautiful, pocket-sized, 52-day devotional. Full of warmth and encouragement, each reading holds Scriptural reflections, personal stories, and prayers to remind us that God is always by our side. He loves us when we feel unlovable. He lifts us up and gives us a peace that passes all understanding. And in the midnight of every dark moment, he is there. The perfect gift for anyone who needs a little hope today, You've Got This (Because God's Got You) will give you the inspiration you need to keep going—and to know you're never alone. A Parents Book of Prayers provides parents with meaningful prayers to God for their children's faith, struggles, direction, and future. In addition to offering solace in times of need, prayer has been used throughout human history to help people tread the often difficult path of spiritual understanding, healing and integration. Although primarily directed at a Christian audience, The Science of Prayer has universal appeal. Long out of print, this little gem offers both timely and practical guidance on the purpose and practice of prayer, as well as the role of both concentration and meditation in the quest for spiritual unfoldment and inner peace. If we know someone has a tumor on a lung, we can picture it and pray for healing in that lung. If someone breaks a leg, we can imagine the cast, and pray for healing in that bone. Ahhh What if we could pray that specifically for someone with anxiety, or ADHD, or resentment, or rage? The purpose of this book is to take you out of the box, to open a new world of praying about one of our least understood parts: our brain. The study of the brain has exploded in recent decades, as has curiosity of prayer and the brain. Now, learn more about both, transform your life, and those that you pray for. So, these pages are for you whether: you have a minute, or you have an hour you didn't even know you have an amygdala, or you are neuroscientist you are not even sure how to pray, or you have prayed for years Explore your brain. Expand your prayers. Now available for the first time in softcover! Raising healthy, happy children is one of life's greatest challenges, yet you can do it effectively. Dr. James Dobson and his wife, Shirley, show you how in Night Light for Parents, a daily devotional filled with encouraging insights and spiritual wisdom. Whether you're married or single, with kids in diapers or almost grown, this book is for you. It offers heartwarming stories, biblical truth, and the practical parenting advice that has guided the Dobsons for more than four decades and inspired families around the world. Let Night Light for Parents brighten your family life—starting tonight. Reprint of the original, first published in 1874. "Engaging Heaven's Army" is filled with Bible explanations and testimonies of angels working with us when we pray rightly. I relate prophetic dreams about angels operating on earth in this era. I explain some things our Lord Jesus referenced in the Gospels about the activity of angels at the end of the age. God's angels are already here and more are arriving. They watch and listen. Angels pay attention and intervene on our behalf. They're frightening to see but they're on our side! Angels are warriors in God's army with authority and power, "licensed to kill." Angels have changed the course of human history. Angels are on patrol to watch over certain nations. They intervene in elections! I tell about my experience when that happened to some of us! These messengers of God give us dreams or visions. They speak their own language but they can also communicate with us. Angels of the Lord confirm the authority of Jesus in ambassadors of His kingdom, especially apostles and prophets, as they declare God's word. Angels are God's enforcers! "Engaging Heaven's Army" is filled with stories of angels helping us. It includes instructions for praying so as to gain their attention. It has illustrations from the Bible and world history of angels acting at key moments to turn the tide in favor of God's people. I offer practical, personal help as I tell my experience overcoming frustration. I've included steps I learned for believers to remove blockages to effective praying, so we can be accountable for real results! I explain how to work with the Lord in order for His kingdom to come on the earth as it is in heaven. I deal with some big issues, too. We need to know that authority is useless if no power is enforcing it! The Holy Spirit helps us pray and say the right things. He really is our Helper! I explain how prophetic prayers and apostolic decrees can operate through Christians to bring heaven to earth." Because Grandad has explained how all things in the natural world pray and make a gift to the beauty of life, his grandson is comforted when Grandad dies. When seven-year-old Bethany meets her six-year-old cousin Reana Mae, it's the beginning of a kinship of misfits that saves both from a bone-deep loneliness. Every summer, Bethany and her family leave Indianapolis for West Virginia's Coal River Valley. For Bethany's mother, the trips are a reminder of the coalmines and grinding poverty of her childhood, of a place she'd hoped to escape. But her loving relatives, and Bethany's friendship with Reana Mae, keep them coming back. But as Bethany grows older, she realizes that life in this small, close-knit community is not as simple as she once thought. . .that the riverside cabins that hold so much of her family's history also teem with scandalous whispers. . .and that those closest to her harbor unimaginable secrets. Amid the dense woods and quiet beauty of the valley, these secrets are coming to light at last, with a force devastating enough to shatter lives, faith, and the bond that Bethany once thought would last forever. Spanning four decades, Sherri Wood Emmons' debut is a haunting, captivating novel about the unexpected, sometimes shocking events that thrust us into adulthood--and the connections that keep us tethered, always, to our pasts. The busy pastor, Bible student, or teacher will find many "seeds" in these outlines that can lead to sermons or lessons filled with a deeper understanding of the truth of God's Word. They are expository in nature. A collection of prayers and poems having its roots in the Gaelic alphabet and in the tradition of understanding Christ as the Alpha and Omega, the Tree of Life. No one can pray for your child better than you can. You see your child on their best days--and also on their worst. You know how they're wired and what makes them unique. Your love for them knows no bounds. Yet expressing the feelings in your heart and in your mind can be challenging. Songwriter and Dove Award winner Tony Wood has crafted prayers for many of the desires we have for our children. In Lord, Help Me Pray for My Kids, Tony has collected a prayer for each day of the year. Focusing on a fresh topic each day, he covers such topics as these: Safety: Will You keep them so close in Your care that no plan formed to hurt them will ever prosper? Friends: May there always be someone in every season of their lives who is a trusted and trustworthy confidant. Siblings: I pray that You will guide them to choose peace, love, and belief in one another. Anger: May they never allow their anger to go unchecked or unacknowledged. Forgiveness: May they first bless their offenders by forgiving them and then bless them by praying for their spiritual condition. Missions: Would You give my children a spirit that sees their schools, sports teams, and circles of friends as potential mission fields? Start to pray with increasing authority and passion as Tony Wood helps you express the desires of your heart for your kids to a listening heavenly Father. This book brings together the letters David Wood has written over the past eighteen years to the Community of the Three Hours, a network of people who have committed themselves to the hidden task of silent prayer for the peace of the world for some or all of the hours between twelve and three each Friday. To engage in this kind of prayer is to enter dark territory where indeed all words fail, where all one can do is to watch and wait. It is a call to be faithful to the commitment and not to expect to see tangible results. As David Scott writes in his Foreword: 'Believers experience an entry into darkness, a cloud of unknowing which is a test of faith... References to this tradition of prayer are taken from The Cloud of Unknowing, Henry Vaughan's poems, and Meister Eckhart's writings.' But the most powerful references are to contemporary experiences of darkness: Nelson Mandela's, Bosnia, the Shoah, the Twin Towers, and the film Trainspotting. Complementing the letters are contributions from Robert Gallagher, Anna Briggs, Doug Constable, and Stephen Brown. Teachers, let's pray! We have been given one of the greatest gifts as believers who are teachers. We possess the ability to war for our students and schools in prayer. Now is the time to be more purposed and precise in prayer than ever before. This weekly journal is a guide to get you started as you pray for your students and schools. 2012 is the 350th anniversary of the 1662 Book of Common Prayer, now widely used in the Church of England and throughout the Anglican Communion. Comfortable Words draws together some of the world's leading liturgical scholars and historians who offer a comprehensive and accessible study of the Prayer Book and its impact on both Church and society over the last three and a half centuries. Comfortable Words includes new and original scholarship here about the use of the Book of Common Prayer at different periods during its life. It also sets out some key material on the background to the production of both the Tudor books and the seventeenth-century book itself. The book is aimed at scholars, students in theological colleges, courses and universities, but there is sufficient accessibility of style for it to be accessible to others who are interested in the Prayer Book more widely in the church and to intelligent lay people. The book is unique in the way that it studies the Prayer Book and looks at the impact of it, both on the Church and on English society. Revealing the fascinating body of hymnal work that flourished in Southern communities populated by the children of slaves between 1885 and 1925, this stirring collection of spiritual songs sheds light on a vanished era. While these hymns owe much to their rural Southern origin, they are distinct from traditional gospel, borrowing heavily from the oral storytelling tradition of the region and possessing a rousing, repetitive nature. Twenty-four hymns from this underappreciated era in African American music are included, along with an extensive analysis of each work, providing a rare look into a pivotal generation of church music. An exquisite Deluxe Edition of the Anglican prayer book and literary masterpiece commemorating the 350th anniversary of the 1662 edition intimately familiar to our most enduring writers As essential to the canon as the Bible and the plays of Shakespeare, The Book of Common Prayer has been in daily use for centuries. Originally produced for the Church of England in the sixteenth century by Thomas Cranmer, who was burned at the stake upon the accession to the throne of the ardently Catholic Queen Mary, it contains the entire liturgy as first presented in English—as well as some of the oldest phrases to be used by modern English speakers. Here are daily prayers, scripture readings, psalm recitals, and the services marking such religious milestones as baptism, confirmation, and marriage, all from the 1662 edition, whose influence can be seen in the work of some of the greatest writers in English literature, from Donne and Swift to Austen and the Brontës. This beautiful deluxe edition includes a new introduction by The New Yorker's book critic James Wood, discussing how The Book of Common Prayer has influenced the English language and literature. Its small trim size allows for easy portability as a daily devotional. For more than seventy years, Penguin has been the leading publisher of classic literature in the English-speaking world. With more than 1,700 titles, Penguin Classics represents a global bookshelf of the best works throughout history and across genres and disciplines. Readers trust the series to provide authoritative texts enhanced by introductions and notes by distinguished scholars and contemporary authors, as well as up-to-date translations by award-winning translators. We believe that happiness is a state of being. It is an internal experience and way of living. We believe that all lives are meant to be lived in a happy positive way. This is a choice. We believe that we all have a life path and purpose. Although lives are full of lessons we believe they are all meant to teach us and help us grow into better people and enlightened souls. In working with us and "Being HAPPY" we will strive to help you to understand how to implement positive permanent change to your mental and spiritual well being. Awareness and happiness are choices and a way of life, not labels or destinations. It is believed by some that our brains are hardwired for positive or negative thinking, that some people are naturally more positive than others. While this may seem valid some doctors are challenging that belief. There is more and more research that supports the belief that this is something we can change. If you would like further intellectual information we recommend reading "The Biology of Belief", "Molecules of Emotion", "How Emotions Are Made", "Change Your Brain Change Your Body", "Breaking the Habit of Being Yourself". In this book, we use the words God, Creator, Spirit, and Universe interchangeably. Please use what is most comfortable for you. We believe that all things are made up of energy and all interactions have an effect on this energy. This workbook, our coaching programs, and certifications address the energy of LIVING a positive, purposeful, life and being HAPPY in this life. In our work and this workbook, we refer to meditation and prayer. We like to remember the old adage, "Prayer is when you talk, meditation is when you listen." In prayer, you are speaking to Creator, Angels, your own soul in some form. Asking for help, guidance, instruction. In meditation, you are quiet, mindful and aware to receive this information with gratitude when it arrives with an open mind and heart. Have you ever wondered if you have made a difference in this life? Well, you have. With every smile you put on someone's face, every tear you've cried with or for someone, every word of advice, every word of encouragement you've given, you have made a difference in someone's life. These fifty-one stories, poems, and articles are my way of making you laugh, encouraging you, and giving you hope. Every personal story made a difference in my life, helping me love my Lord, my husband, and people more. Take your time to read each story, and ponder how the Lord is speaking to you. How can you receive the love of the Savior more deeply? How can you forgive those who have hurt you? How can you reach out to others? My prayer is that you will, first and foremost, come to know the Savior's love for you. Many progressive Christians struggle with prayer—or, at least, with the kinds of prayer they are often exposed to: shouted, whispered, forceful, timid, begging, and demanding; everything from essay lengthy scripted petitions, to poetry read from a book, to rote recitations that no one pays much attention to, to pronouncements, to communications in a "prayer language." They are often gripped by the power of the Christian faith but are simply unable or unwilling to endorse or engage with many of its traditional beliefs, including traditional beliefs about God and prayer. If we're not trying to connect with the kind of God who takes notes, answers "yes" or "no," and grants or withholds favours, what or whom are we trying to connect with? And so often our words seem to travel no further than the ceiling, no matter what we believe. The situation for people who describe themselves as "spiritual but not religious" isn't much different. They may not "pray" in the traditional sense or in traditional ways, but many long to connect or communicate with something larger than themselves - as good a definition of "prayer" as any - whether they name that something "the divine," "big love," or "spirit"; or think of it as a "force" or "energy" that connects all things. This is not an academic book, nor a "how-to" document. Rather, it poses questions that are important to progressive Christians and to the "spiritual but not religious." Working only with the assumption that prayer might have value even for those who are not sure what, or who, or even if God is, this book is about opening oneself to the "possibility of God." Emily Graymoth Graymoth Press This guidebook will help you discover practical ways to pray that will draw you closer to God. It includes 40 different ways to pray that can be done over 40 days-40W/40D. While this process was originally designed for Lent, these exercises can be done any time of the year. This guidebook offers different types of prayers using a variety of approaches-silent reflection, writing, drawing, singing and dancing. Some of the prayers will feel comfortable but others will feel awkward. Try them all to see which ones work for you. It can easily be adapted for a congregation-wide study of prayer and a sermon series on prayer, such as a series on each line in the Lord's Prayer. Whether you use it as an individual, with a small group, or in leading an entire congregation, this is a step-by-step process for deepening and expanding your understanding of prayer. The simpler exercises are at the beginning of the process and progress to longer, more complex ones. This way you will develop your "spiritual stamina" as the season goes along. Canada's most prominent writer on religious issues gives us the first truly down-to-earth book on prayer. Simple, practical, focussed on real life and completely honest. This book seeks to provide a strategy for when a child gets lost. We all need something to do when we feel lost and that's the purpose of this book. Sit down, cry out to God and He will provide an answer. Through a simple lesson of going to the woods to draw, you and your child can make a plan, brainstorm how to make a problem better and use this time to say what's on each of your hearts. The Lord's Prayer has historically been a passage children were taught at an early age. Knowing God is with you anywhere and anytime will help your child to stay calm in a crisis. We all know God is love, but it's good to know you are never alone. By discussing His love and staying calm in any circumstance, hopefully, a child will know what to do. Use this book to talk about conflict resolution, facing the unknown and never giving up. In the back pages, there are discussion questions and a personal page to celebrate that your child has learned the Lord's Prayer. A caring pastor and author meets with you daily in this collection of 261 inspiring devotions. Dr. George O. Wood examines the Book of Mark while providing a Scripture passage and prayer for each day. Wood is an engaging storyteller who shares an upbeat mini-story or vignette every day. For example, one day's reading introduces the first grocery store owner to offer grocery carts for customers. It took time for people to accept this helpful new idea, since they had always carried everything themselves. Dr. Wood explains that our Savior does something similar for us. We tend to carry more burdens than necessary, so the Lord reaches out and says, "Let Me do it for you." You see sin is slapping God in the face. It may be polished, cultured sin. Sin seems capable of taking quite a high polish. Or it may be the common gutter stuff. A man is not concerned about the grain of a club that strikes him a blow. How can He and I talk together if I have done that, and stick to it-not even apologized. -from "Why the Results Fail" What is prayer? Can humans influence God's will? Why does it seem that many prayers go unanswered? The mysteries of the communication between God and his faithful are explored in this 1904 guide to the power and puzzle of prayer: how God heeds our entreaties, the ideal spirit with which to pray, and even what prayer means in the grand scheme of The Universe. Those who pray will find this a source of comfort and enlightenment even today, a century after it was first published. American lay-preacher SAMUEL DICKEY GORDON (1859-1936) was a devotional speaker in high demand throughout the early 1900s, as well as a prolific author of inspirational works. His "Quiet Talks" series includes Quiet Talks on Power and Quiet Talks About Jesus. Talking Faith is not about teaching people what to believe or about going door-to-door in an evangelism campaign. It is about helping people to better understand and develop their own faith and helping them to be comfortable in sharing their faith with others. Heather Kirk-Davidoff and Nancy Wood-Lyczak believe that the key to nurturing faith lies in two Christian practices: prayer-conversation with God, and evangelism-conversation with others, especially those who are not part of a faith community. Talking Faith is for anyone interested in exploring further what it means to have a vital Christian faith. There are no other prerequisites. Participants need not have any Bible knowledge before they begin. Incorporating Bible study, interactive activities, and discussion, Talking Faith examines eight questions of faith. During each class, participants sing and pray and share their faith with one another. In all classes, Jesus Christ and the Bible are central to the discussion. All topics are examined in light of Jesus' life, ministry, witness, death, and his resurrection, helping participants to see Jesus as the foundation from which all conversation about Christian faith begins.
