----- EXCERPT FROM

BOOK Deb still didn't know where they were going, and had to follow Chace's instructions. They drove on and on into what seemed like an endless stream of flat roads climbing slowly into the foothills of the mountains that were a constant of the skyline. Chace assured her that if they kept their pace, they would get there right around sundown. They wouldn't need to stop for the night anywhere. His first planned stop was perfect for sundown too. That was the way he had planned it. Of course, he knew his plan could go wrong and it could be dark by the time they got there. Deb was confident. Chace was anything but. Still, he lead on against the current of self doubt that clouded his thoughts and hung about every fiber of his being. The closer and closer they got to their destination, they could not help but notice the breathtaking beauty of their surroundings. The red mountains, plateaus against the sky that Deb had so admired from the road...were getting closer and closer. As the afternoon wore on, the cliffs and mesas were just off the road, almost within reach if they had stuck their hand out from the bike, right there on the road. At least that's how it seemed anyway. They stopped for Deb to get a drink out of her water bottle as the sun was getting relatively low in the sky. Chace was referencing the atlas. "How are we doing?" Deb said. "You're the master and commander." "I think we're going to make it," he said. AUTHOR'S NOTE: This is a 8,000 word stand-alone story with an HEA, so no cliff-hangers! Story contains mature themes and language, and is intended for 18+ readers only.
