I started wetting the bed all the time and have nightmares and strange dreams about running away and being chased by men in black coats and big black hats and I was scared that they would get me if I went to toilet in the middle of the night. I saw this man with a Black Top hat, Black Cape and Black trousers sitting at the end of my bed, he was watching me and because I had been a Naughty little girl. Mum shouted at me more and more, I wet the bed more and more and became quiet and more withdrawn. I started wetting myself in school because I was too scared to go and ask to go to toilet and was scared that the teacher would know that I am a naughty little girl. I would be so busy trying to pinch my legs together that I lost the sensation that told me when I needed to go to the toilet straight away . I started waking up in the middle of the night and wanting to go into my parents' bed. Mum said no, because I would get them wet and also that was my youngest brother's place, there was no space for me..... I was just a little girl wanting to be loved and protected and I cried at the bottom of their bed and sometimes I would almost say : "He did shameful and bad things to me and I can't sleep as I do not want to think about it anymore, but I did not , instead I cried softer and softer so no one can hear me. Inside I was screaming "I am scared, please , please help me.(I feel sad writing this, but I am not bursting into tears like I used to).When we did not listen or we were being naughty, dad used to beat us with a belt, an electric cord/cable and sometimes his bare hands which were very big. These beatings would last anything from five to ten minutes, I started holding in the tears and did not cry any more as I did not want him to see how much I was hurting inside . It was very difficult to get started on this chapter. Dad passed away on May 20th 2009. We never had much of a father daughter relationship. I have also become a born- again Christian and have had lots of personal battles within myself about forgiving and letting go. That year ( 2010) I was forced to look at these issues head- on ... I made new friends in this school and they soon found out that I wet myself. My friends covered for me when I was in a teacher's class that I did not feel safe enough to go and ask If I could leave the room or made me feel nervous in any way. To the frustration of the teachers I cried easily for silly little things- if I got the wrong page of maths or got the words spelt wrong or any minor mistake a normal child would brush off, I would react so strangely I think they thought I was a bit I was sick one day, I think I had pickled fish in a tin and I was coming down with a virus or something to that effect. I cleaned up my sick and sat back down on the carpet, I had no thoughts of going home at all. The teacher always used that story afterward to the rest of the class to show them that it was okay to stay in school after a little accident sometimes and I guess I felt special that she remembered that and I sure as hell did not receive any recognition from my parents so anything from another adult was great. I did not know any better either as in our family no big fuss was made over you if you were sick. You would get your medicine and that was it , no big deal. No crying, no fuss, just get on with it and get over it. The rest of Primary School was fairly happy, I had my " wee" ( wee means small in the Scottish language) gang of friends and if I did not have anybody to play with, I had my brothers and my sister was around too. The wetting episodes carried on all the way through to all of primary school and I was quite an anxious child. Take Bon Jovi one step further. This book is your ultimate resource for Bon Jovi. "It's my life and it's now or never! Cause I ain't gonna live forever, I just want live while I'm alive It's my life!" - Bon Jovi . Music and Art Notebook useful to School, Home and Clas "They took broken and made it art." From award winning author LJ Evans comes a novel inspired by Bon Jovi songs that shows how love and acceptance can heal even the toughest scars. SETH I'm a trash artist. I'm a recovering alcoholic. I'm a rude bastard. It's why I was better off alone until feisty blogger PJ Hensley entered my life with her fairy-like quality. Suddenly I couldn't imagine a life without her in it. And when she loved me and left me, it was what I expected but it isn't what I wanted. And because I couldn't just let her go, I've spent the last five months writing her letters trying to convince her to come home even though I know she won't. I don't deserve for her to come back. PJ I was ignoring my screwed up past and a bunch of stalker like texts while focusing on graduating college. The last thing I needed was a moody trash artist entering my world. But like all things Seth, he entered my life anyway with an intensity and focus that left me breathless. And when the summer collided into one big mess, I ran. To try to heal. To try and escape. But Seth's letters are tearing at my soul and slowly reeling me back in. He's almost convinced me that he can weld our lives back together into something beautiful. Almost... SPOILER ALERT this book can be read as a standalone novel, but it has spoilers to both the 1st and 2nd book in the MY LIFE AS AN ALBUM series. "It's my life and it's now or never! Excerpt: "It's My Life" is Bon Jovi's first single from the album Crush. It was released on May 23, 2000. It was written by Jon Bon Jovi, Richie Sambora, and Max Martin. The song hit #1 across several countries (although it only reached #33 in the US). However, it has the distinction of being the only song from a band once classified as 1980s hair metal to reach the top 40 in the 21st century, a testament to how the song managed to introduce the band to a new, younger fanbase. The song is arguably their biggest post-1980s hit single and has been performed live at almost all shows since its release. The song has many classic Bon Jovi features, such as Sambora's use of the talk box, and a line in the second verse "For Tommy and... (Drum Play-Along). The only time I've ever thought I was really going to die was during my first panic attack. I was on vacation in Paris and suddenly felt like I couldn't breathe. As I hyperventilated, my arms, legs and torso went tingly. I was rushed to the emergency room, shaken, but alive. Panic disorder left me debilitated for two months after my first attack. I struggled with shortness of breath, fatigue, and heart palpitations. I was forced to defer going to teachers' college for a year because I didn't feel physically able to go. For a while, I focused on all the things panic disorder was taking away from me. Then I got wise. I realized that my illness was call to become a better person. I took panic disorder as an opportunity to grow. The "year off" from school became my "year on." I majored in me. I journaled, went for therapy, and asked myself important questions. What do I enjoy? Who am I? Where do I want to be? How can I be an active creator of my life, rather than just falling into it? Today, panic disorder has taken a back seat. A loving and supportive partner, journal writing and cognitive behavioural therapy were the major players in my recovery. Complementary medicine also played a supporting role. But mostly it was me. I decided I deserved to really live, and that I was being called to do so. They say that we are only dealt a hand that we can play. If you are suffering with anxiety or panic, be brave and ask yourself some important questions: Am I really happy? What do I love? What have I always wanted to do? Where can I get help? How can I start healing today? (Piano/Vocal/Guitar Artist Songbook). 30 of the biggest hits from these rock superstars: Bad Medicine * Blaze of Glory * I'll Be There for You * It's My Life * Livin' on a Prayer * Never Say Goodbye * Thank You for Loving Me * Wanted Dead or

Alive * You Give Love a Bad Name * and more.
