Changing Teaching, Changing Times Dec 25 2021 This is the story of a science teacher and her work in an over-crowded and under-resourced township secondary school in contemporary South Africa. While set firmly in the present, it is also a journey into the past, shedding fresh light on how the legacy of apartheid education continues to have a major influence on teaching and learning in South Africa. The book has a compelling story line with extensively referenced notes at the end of each chapter. It is intended for a wide audience, which includes general readers, policy makers, teacher-educators, researchers and, most importantly, practitioners in the field. For, while it reminds us of the powerful constraining role that both context and students play in mediating a teacher's practice, it also attests to the power of individual agency. As such it is a celebration of the actions of an ordinary teacher whose willingness to leave the well-worn paths of familiar practice stands as a beacon of possibility for contexts which seem, so often, to be devoid of hope.

Improving Examination & Study Skills Nov 04 2022 In the struggle to obtain a paper qualification, many students are faced with the dilemma of having to organise their lives around the multiple subjects that they have to study. The task is one that requires a considerable degree of organisation, and skill to be able to assimilate the vast amount of information before them. This book takes the perspective that studying is not just about mastering the skill of memorising facts, but also very much a social experience that involves managing oneself, the friends, and the environment.
