A rural love story with a difference. Story of Ayaan and Alia their extraordinary love for each other at the same time respect and loyal towards their parents. And most of all their splendid patience is an example for others. Such a beautiful couple who studied together, played together since their childhood and when they became young they fell in love with each other. The Days passed, everything was fine and then the love of both of them was about to reach the final destination. Alia and Ayaan's marriage were fixed. Then suddenly due to misfortune and some wrong decisions. Just a few days before the wedding or say a few hours before the wedding broke up and they two got separated. Not only is the marriage broken rather the parents of both of them came to insistence and in the stubbornness they done marriage of Alia and Ayaan with someone else in the same Mahurat, on the same day. But fate has its own game plan and the game which was shown in its own way after eleven years. So are the fate only responsible for this game of destruction or some wrong decisions are also responsible? A turbulent relationship between a mother and a daughter takes a sudden turn when the daughter stumbles across a past that she never knew. The golden period of a professor's life is tainted by questions about his purpose until one night gives him all the answers he needs. Desperate times test us all but when hunger drives a girl to do the unthinkable, her life changes forever. Woven around the lives of the people around us - the shy girl on the metro, your domestic help, your neighbours and perhaps even you - this collection of short stories will take you on a bittersweet journey that explores the spectrum that is part of any human relationship and all the complexity and chaos that secretly dwell within the homes and hearts of India. Often laced with an element of introspection, the stories are sure to change the way you see the world around you... What is contemporary women's writing in Hindi all about? How far does it reach beyond the commonly perceived limits of feminine experience or feminist ideology? From legendary writer Mannu Bhandari's The Cremation Ground which satirises notions of eternal love, to Alpana Mishra's superbly crafted Homeless in the Cantonment, a devastating chronicle of army life, these stories dissect numerous aspects of human existence with a startling incisiveness. Mridula Garg's exploration of an unusual relationship in The Second One exposes the hypocrisy rife in so-called 'decent' middle-class families while Mamta Kalia brings empathy and humour into her depiction of a poignant human situation in The Agony of an Artiste. Political issues are raised by Chitra Mudgal, Chandrakanta and Vandana Rag. While Kavita focuses on the new dilemmas that challenge women today, veteran writer Rajee Seth presents a picture of the daily battle of a working woman with empathy and insight. Sexual obsession is explored too, from both the female and male point of view by Manisha Kulshreshtha, and by Pratyaksha in her sensual narrative of infatuation, The Hunt. Published by Zubaan. Kartik fell in love with Ashima the very first time he saw her. She was everything he had ever imagined in his dream girl - his Angel. As their friendship bloomed into deep love, culminating into marriage, he became her Teddy, her confidant and an eternal support. But in trying to be with her, Kartik made a choice that broke his father's heart and hopes. As Kartik and Ashima gear up to step into the next phase of their relationship, life seems like an overload of joy and love. He is confident his love for Ashima will win over all odds, even his father. Little did he know that things were going to change drastically, forever. Why does Ashima marry someone else? Why does Kartik accept it silently? And why is life so unpredictable? This is a story of deep love that knows no bounds, relationships that break all barriers, and a promise - I am Always Here with You. This book focuses on Indian single mothers and explores their lives, with their attendant dilemmas and challenges. The author details a phenomenon that is fast becoming common. Deftly using a free-flowing narrative, she raises questions about marriage, children and relationships. This seminal work draws attention to truths that usually lie buried in the rubble of daily life and conventional social sciences. Sneha Jaiswal, a 17-year-old student, is an author and a blogger. She developed her interest in writing at the age of 10. Starting from writing for school magazines, she then created pages, blogs, and websites to spread her writings all over the world. The book CUZ IT WAS NOT THE END is her debut novel and is fully based upon the happenings she observed around her. She has written this book for every girl who has gone through some cruel acts in her life. Apart from writing, she loves spending time with family, reading novels, traveling, blogging and most of all exploring nature. She is a state-level basketball player and a very big foodie. A woman, desperate to escape an abusive and fanatic husband, returns to the country where she grew up, only to discover that her soul has always been trapped in her turbulent past. Burdened with internal wounds of regret and two small daughters, she attempts to fight her inner demons to conquer all that has repressed her for so many years.  A man tormented by his feelings of inadequacy due his lower social status, and his role in the betrayal of the woman he loves, that leads to a murder gone unnoticed, struggles for absolution and atonement.  A woman battles her family and belligerent social pressures, in order to build a career and an identity of her own, only to find that marriage was her ultimate fate. Spurned by an unrequited love, she pledges to remain a spinster, until she is blackmailed to make what she see's as the ultimate sacrifice.  A son is ostracized by his father for marrying a Non-Muslim, and what his family interpreted as a betrayal of ones duty to a newly born nation, becomes estranged from his Bangladeshi family. Divided for three decades by their differences in principle and the gap in communication as well as thousands of miles between them, he returns to his homeland to face them on his fathers deathbed, and as he desperately tries to reconcile the past with the present, time betrays him, only to discover an amazing revelation that fills him with insufferable guilt.  A Muslim boy, growing up in London becomes culturally confused and is torn between the demands of his eastern family and a western lifestyle. In his search for a girl he once loved, he battles his need for an identity and learns to find peace, but at a great cost.  A forbidden love, beleaguered by religious stigma, destroyed by the demands of duty to ones family, survives to be nurtured in the heart of a young girl who finds it impossible to resolve her feelings. Tormented by her need to be loved back, she goes through a life that's chosen for her by fate, beset with the ghouls of her past, hoping against all odds for a reconciliation. Each story is a first person account of how they come to reconcile their hearts with their circumstances. This Is A Study Tribe-Tharu Located In A Small Indian Village On India-Nepal Border. The Author Studied The Village For 12 Years. Short stories by various 20th century Indic authors translated into English. "A terrific historical mystery in the fine old Arthur Conan Doyle style . . . Who knew that a mystery formed around the founding of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology could be so good? . . . There are cliffhanger endings and fortuitous escapes. . . . There are even a couple of very sweet romances."—The Globe and Mail NATIONAL BESTSELLER Boston, 1868. The Civil War may be over but a new war has begun, one between past and present, tradition and technology. The daring Massachusetts Institute of Technology is on a mission to harness science for the benefit of all. But when an unnatural disaster strikes the ships in Boston Harbor, and an equally inexplicable catastrophe devastates the heart of the city, an antiscience backlash casts a pall over

MIT and threatens its very survival. So the best and brightest from the Institute's first graduating class secretly join forces to save innocent lives and track down the truth. Armed with ingenuity and their unique scientific training, gifted war veteran Marcus Mansfield, blueblood Robert Richards, genius Edwin Hoyt, and brilliant freshman Ellen Swallow will match wits with a master criminal bent on the utter destruction of the city. Don't miss Matthew Pearl's short story "The Professor's Assassin," featuring characters from The Technologists, in the back of the book. Look for special features inside. What readers are saying '[Saz] has a unique style of blending striking themes with her favourite songs, giving the readers a gentle feel of life and laughter.' 'A good-looking boy with brains, a beautiful smile and a love of Bollywood. Nikesh Raja has all the qualities of my dream man' 'easy to read and it was all too relatable ... I can still visualise the characters walking through University' 'This is a beautiful love story bursting with real life. The descriptions are so vivid that you feel you're living the story' 'Plenty of melodrama in this ultimate girl meets boy tale. Set in the UK, the main characters and their families are of Indian origin so many interesting references to culture, especially food' 'A beautiful book where every Indian girl who experienced growing up in England in the 80s can relate to' 'full of happiness and heartache in equal parts. The reference to parties, student life and songs was so good...really liked the food menus too, made my mouth water.' 'I fell in love with Reena and Nikesh with every turn of the page. Beautifully written, I felt as if I was living every emotional up and down with them both.' The four novellas in this volume span the inimitable Ismat Chughtai's literary career, from 1939 to 1971. Each one develops the author's central preoccupation with the lives of women as they experience love, tragedy, societal prescriptions and proscriptions, in collision with their own rebellious spirit. A keen sense of their individual subversive potential and a willingness to take the consequences of obduracy in the face of overwhelming odds, ensures that they are neither hapless nor victims. Through them Chughtai delivers a scathing critique on the hypocrisy and cant of social mores, and the festering maladies that infect society. Chughtai's characteristic mastery of form and technique, her vivid imagery and richness of language make for marvellous story-telling, and create some of the most memorable female protagonists in Indian literature. Rasika and Ishwar are married but not immune to having the occasional bout of lustful lovemaking. Read what happens as passions arise in this erotic tale from Sana Khan. A couple decide to have a threesome. A billionaire has a one night stand with an air hostess on a plane... Read these and many more stories of Indian Bhabhis from the temptress of Indian romance writing, Sana Khan. Eating Apes is an eloquent book about a disturbing secret: the looming extinction of humanity's closest relatives, the African great apes—chimpanzees, bonobos, and gorillas. Dale Peterson's impassioned exposé details how, with the unprecedented opening of African forests by European and Asian logging companies, the traditional consumption of wild animal meat in Central Africa has suddenly exploded in scope and impact, moving from what was recently a subsistence activity to an enormous and completely unsustainable commercial enterprise. Although the three African great apes account for only about one percent of the commercial bush meat trade, today's rate of slaughter could bring about their extinction in the next few decades. Supported by compelling color photographs by award-winning photographer Karl Ammann, Eating Apes documents the when, where, how, and why of this rapidly accelerating disaster. Eating Apes persuasively argues that the American conservation media have failed to report the ongoing collapse of the ape population. In bringing the facts of this crisis and these impending extinctions into a single, accessible book, Peterson takes us one step closer to averting one of the most disturbing threats to our closest relatives. This is my story when I left the job in July'2019 and started living my life, the way I wanted to live. Happiness and Joy altogether entered to my life. And I got surrounded by tranquility all around. And then suddenly all peace got disappeared. I got detected with a serious Fungal Infection in October'2019. And this book is all about how I dealt with depression, fear and failure during that time. In this book, you will find a way to see the things through sight. The sight which directs you to the reality and at the same time you can differentiate the positive aspect of life from the vanished things happening all around. And this is going to show you the invisible power which is hidden in the inner soul of a human being. "Circumstances are a valuable gift of life because sometimes they take us across and sometimes sink us. It is up to us how we adopt their influence. I had chosen life for myself in those odd circumstances." Rajinder Singh Bedi: Selected Short Stories curates some of the best work by the Urdu writer, whose contribution to Urdu fiction makes him a pivotal force within modern Indian literature. Born in Sialkot, Punjab, Rajinder Singh Bedi (1915-1984) lived many lives-as a student and postmaster in Lahore, a venerated screenwriter for popular Hindi films and a winner of both the Sahitya Akademi as well as the Filmfare awards. Considered one of the prominent progressive writers of modern Urdu fiction, Bedi was an architect of contemporary Urdu writing along with leading lights such as Munshi Premchand and Saadat Hasan Manto. Written between 1940 and 1975, the fifteen short stories included in this collection comprise favorites like 'Garam Coat' (Woollen Coat), 'Lajwanti', 'Apne Dukh Mujhe De Do' (Give Me Your Sorrows), 'Rahman ke Joote' (Rahman's Shoes) and others. Bedi's stories dissect human emotions with grim precision as he navigates the everyday lives of men and women, exposing social inequities and economic problems. Please note : Intended for matured readers.(18+) (Conversations that took place in Hindi and are recorded as such in italics, immediately followed by a translation in English. Readers familiar with Hindi might find it rewarding to read through the original Hindi conversations. Others can conveniently skip them. In Hindi as in many Asian languages, different terms are used for addressing or referring to persons of higher or lower social status or degree of familiarity with the speaker. Thus, in place of the universal "you" in English, one would use "aap" to address a stranger or person of higher status, "tum" for a friend or person of equal status and "tu" only to address persons of much lower status or for someone very close or intimate.) One day, there was a condom malfunction. Some of Shyam's virile semen seeped into Renu's fertile womb and, to cut a long story short, Renu missed her period. Women in Renu's maternal line were prone to severe nausea and vomiting during pregnancy and Renu had also unfortunately inherited that trait. Soon her morning sickness became so severe that she was nauseous throughout the day and was hardly able to keep anything down. No remedy seemed to work. To make matters worse, she developed an aversion to sex. In fact, the mere sight of her husband's underwear hanging out to dry on the clothesline was enough to bring on a severe bout of retching. So finally, Shyam had no alternative but to send Renu off to her father's home in Satara, when she was barely in her third month of pregnancy. That meant that he had to spend almost 8 to 9 months without his wife, assuming that she would return after the baby was say a couple of months old. Mukul lands up at a new place where he is greeted by Sania bhabhi who is in bed with her lover! To read what happens next, read this sizzling tale of Indian romance from Sana Khan. Rasika and Ishwar enjoy a wild night of passion. Mukul is surprised by the lust of his landlord's wife. Sunidhi and her girlfriend seduce a hot guy that they know... Read these wild stories of love, lust and longing from Sana Khan to know what happens next. "First published in censored form in Yunost 1966, under the title 'Babi Yar'"--T.p. verso. Shadows of the Past A wise person once said, "Coincidences do happen, that's why they have a name." Sometimes these coincidences stop us on our tracks and make us wonder, "Was that really just a coincidence - or did the hand of Destiny strike ever so gently?" We call them 'eerie' or 'uncanny', or 'a miracle' or 'a stroke of luck' or 'fate'. Shadows of the Past takes you to the crossroads where coincidence meets luck, miracle meets destiny, on the thin line between the strange and the eerie. Perhaps those incidents are mere coincidences, and there is nothing inexplicable about them. Or, perhaps not... Mindful Stories takes us through emotions and stories of the mind. Each one of us has a wonderful experience right now. We take the liberty to say that, because we know we are blessed with abundance—two eyes to read, a mind to reflect, and our emotions to relate. If we are able to reach you in the tiniest possible way with the stories, we would thank the almighty for enabling us to do so. Human beings are strange creatures. They live in NOW and drive into the FUTURE with a truckload of the PAST. Definitely, this creates a great substance for stories. So, sit back and enjoy the stories. Who knows, the essence of mind's thirst, grief, and life-lihood might have one of your own stories to reflect. Happiness can be elusive, and so often young people are dejected, depressed, and unmotivated because of their past failures. So how can we learn from our mistakes, uncover the positive in life, and try to improve, help others, and face the world with a smile? In #MyLifeline, anyone who needs to feel encouraged in life can follow the coming-of-age story of Nishaan—a kind, humble, and selfless young man who is starting his journey from college to the corporate world. Accompanied by friends on his new life’s journey and finally meeting a sweet, soft-spoken, and softhearted girl, Shikha, who opens his world, Nishaan is able to confront the challenges of life with determination and support. Even though it can be difficult to find happiness, we can use Nishaan’s story to stay motivated and positive even through the most challenging of circumstances. If we are able to face our challenges and put forth a positive effort, we too can beat depression and find a way to love again. In fifteen stories that are at once grim, wryly ironic, humorous and affecting, acclaimed Rajasthani writer Ratan Kumar Sambhria portrays with rare acuity the injustices rampant in a caste-driven society and the triggers that spark rebellion. Poverty and greed degrade blood ties; money plays a dramatic role in changing equations between oppressor and oppressed; livestock and land become precious beyond measure. Yet, love – between men and women, mother and child, a man and his land, and human beings and the animals they nurture – underlies such dark overtones, and integrity and honour shine through in the bleakest moments. Remarkable for their craft and rendered here in an authentic translation, these deceptively simple stories are narratives of love and anger, hope and fortitude, and subtly negotiate equality in a society inherently marked by inequity.
