She discusses the vibrational resonance that draws us to certain crystals, especially in calling light workers into alignment with their soul purpose, and explains how crystals are energetic mirrors of the angelic realm. She shows how we can consciously invite crystals into our lives and provides a guided channel-opening exercise to create a clear connection between heaven and earth for more powerful work. She also explains how to work with crystals to protect yourself from negative energies, especially helpful for sensitives and empaths. Kathryn discusses how to care for your crystal family, including clearing, purifying, and recharging protocols. She presents a 7-chakra crystal meditation where 7 crystals (clear quartz, amethyst, blue calcedony, green fluorite, orange calcite, carnelian, and red jasper) help you access the energies needed to balance the chakras. She explores 15 healing crystals with connections to specific Archangels who can be invited to help you. In the final section of the book, Kathryn presents a full-color alphabetical compendium of 44 crystal allies and their angelic counterparts, illustrating each and explaining their uses, such as protection, heart-opening, love, power, or health/healing, along with their spiritual messages. When we take action with the crystals around us, call on the angels for help, and consciously build our crystal and angelic family, we become an agent of healing for our own heart and the hearts of those around us, as well as for the heart of the earth.

Neither Crystal Nor Gold Aug 19 2021 The story of Christ Cathedral is alive with examples of the work of the Holy Spirit, from its literal foundation to its art and architecture. This work of narrative nonfiction first explores the life of Dr. Robert Schuller, a man who was inspired to grow a humble church on the rooftop of a drive-in theater into an international ministry that broadcasted around the world from a glass church in California. Dr. Schuller named his massive, 10,000 glass pane church the Crystal Cathedral. The see-through ceiling and walls gave the impression of preaching under the open sky. Crystal Cathedral Ministries always had what it needed to fulfill its goals, outreach, and expansion, until Schuller's age pulled him out of full-time ministry and the church collapsed financially. More than thirty acres of land with five buildings of architectural significance faced liquidation in bankruptcy proceedings. Using court transcripts and personal interviews with those directly involved, this book explores how the Diocese of Orange emerged as the likely buyer. For more than a decade, Bishop Tod Brown had struggled to build a cathedral, and this option seemed to fulfill that need and save the campus as a place for Christians. Remarkably, it was the 84-year-old Schuller who urged his Board of Directors to accept the Diocese of Orange's offer so that the cathedral would be preserved as "a place of Christian worship." Dr. Schuller called the Catholic Church his "Mother Church." Each phase of the story introduces new and critical players who served their own roles, from fundraising to the restoration of the new campus. The redesign of the Crystal Cathedral brought dedicated people, both Catholic and Protestant, together to renew it as a catholic place of worship. From the restoration of the Hazel Wright Organ to the mosaic of Our Lady of Guadalupe to the innovative white ceiling quatrefoils to the marble altar, the result is a cohesive, singular Cathedral. Following the theme that the tapestry is woven from the back, this story details the large and small, often inexplicable, ways that the Lord lights the way without revealing the true destination.

The Crystal Children Nov 21 2021 Crystal Children reflect the new generation that has come to the Earth plane after the Indigo Children. They are approximately ages 0 through 5, although some members of the first wave of Crystal Children are as old as 7. These children are like Indigos—highly psychic and sensitive—but without the dark edge and the anger energy. The term Crystal Children is already taking hold worldwide, and people everywhere are talking about these special kids. Since Doreen is the only researcher who is publicly giving speeches on the subject, her audiences have been asking her for a book on the topic. It's a natural sequel to her book The Care and Feeding of Indigo Children. As babies, Crystal Children may take longer than normal to begin talking. They are highly telepathic, and their tuned-in mothers communicate with them nonverbally. Because they're so sensitive, the Crystal Children babies may fuss and cry a lot in crowded places. They're also very fond of nature. Doreen once watched one Crystal Child walk from tree to tree, giving each one a big hug. Crystal Children are beautiful inside and out, like magnificent little high-priests and priestesses. One look in their eyes, and you'll recognize Divine love and wisdom. Their auras are bright, radiant, and opalescent—they seem to glow from the inside! They talk about past lives, distant galaxies, and profound insights concerning peace and love. Most Crystal Children's parents are aware that their kids are special, and they're thrilled to be parenting such delightful children. The book includes many interviews with Crystal Children, their parents, and teachers. It discusses parenting and teaching methods that are essential to keeping these children happy and healthy, and how to avoid pitfalls that could spoil their special gifts.

Children love the beauty of crystals, and crystal energies can help make things better for them at school, at home, and at play. My Crystal Guide explores crystals from a child's view—what crystals and minerals are and how to choose and work with the crystals you need—as well as introducing an understanding of crystal energies and crystal healing. Fun exercises to try are included throughout, along with simple crystal meditations. The Children's Crystal Finder includes 101 commonly available crystals and minerals with clear photographs and each crystal's healing qualities relevant to children, while the final chapter suggests how to help with all types of problems that children may encounter, including stress, not sleeping well, tests at school, and making new friends. Created with children in mind, My Crystal Guide includes guidance and practical exercises for parents and carers, but it is written for children to follow and understand.
