and the French Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique agreed to the organization of an International Colloquium on the "Mechanical Behavior of Anisotropic Solids". The meeting was held at Villard-de-Lans (near Grenoble, France) from 19th to 22nd June 1979. The Colloquium considered mechanical aspects of the anisotropy of solids, both initial and induced by permanent deformation, anisotropic hardening and damage, oriented fissuration, etc. Topics concerned mathematical, experimental and engineering aspects of the anisotropy of metals, composites, soils and rocks. The aim of the Colloquium was to bring together experimentalists, theoreticians and engineers interested in various features of mechanical anisotropy, in order to permit an interdisciplinary exchange of understanding, experience and methods. A detailed description of the scope, aim and proposed topics is contained in the Preface. The announcement of the Colloquium attracted a large number of submitted contributions. Conforming with the principles of Euromech Colloquia and of the Colloques Internationaux du CNRS, the accepted contributions were limited to 50 communications. A general description of the scientific program is to be found in the Preface. Five general lectures gave state-of-the-art reports concerning some areas of the behavior of anisotropic solids; the 50 communications were divided into 12 sessions dealing with specific topics (see "Contents"). In order to facilitate subsequent contact between the reader and the contributors, full addresses are given in the "List of Authors." A contribution to the International Hydrological Decade. Papers presented at the Symposia on properties and processes and measurement and forecasting. Prose poetry presented in a bi-lingual edition. Written in French and translated by the author into the English, these poems were generated in a process yielding concurrent shifts to the original. Voice of Ice might be described as the chronicle of what a dream dreams, an account of a nightmare's torment. Ifland's collection of prose poems documents the quest for a coherent self, an authentic identity born out of the chaos of language and history. Her poems trace a radical process of de-creation--dismemberment of the body, dissolution of the ego, abandonment of the self--and the reinvention of a new identity, purified by the acid of tears. At 30, Will is the epitome of the New Man: successful, a skilled mountaineer, happy in his equal and open marriage. Then he falls in love with Kathleen, and his charmed life begins to fall apart as he discovers the strength of their passion and his inability to control it. Leana culpabilise de la perte cruelle de ses parents lors d'un incendie. Orpheline, elle et ses deux s urs partent vivre chez leur grand-mere a Danvers. Nell installe un climat de confiance afin de les aider a accepter les dons qu'elles possedent depuis toujours. Or, Leana refuse tout bonnement d'y croire jusqu'au jour ou l'ombre de ses cauchemars s'installe dans sa nouvelle vie, bien plus fascinante que terrifiante...

L'espace était inviolable. Un secteur tout à fait spécial. L'immense dénivellation entre l'avenue des Pins et l'avenue Docteur Penfield faisait penser comme si elle était placée au pied d'un autel dans le chœur d'une chapelle. À quelques pas de là, un large escalier de bois rendait accessible l'avenue des Pins. Les arbres dissimulaient le haut de l'escalier. Martine avait envie de gravir cet escalier qui montait vers l'infini. Un calme mystérieux régnait et les enveloppait. — Une déesse, chuchota Martine stupéfaite par sa beauté. On dirait une poupée qui dort. Elle est parfaite. Ses cheveux sont bien placés. Tout est parfait. Martine Gendron et son compagnon Boris Popovich sont à la recherche de ce tueur qui tue en hiver et qui se limite à un secteur très particulier, la faculté de médecine de l'université de McGill. Bien vite, les horreurs de rites sataniques les hanteront et glaceront le sang des enquêteurs à la recherche de ce tueur en série. Lorsqu'une seconde tempête s'abat sur Montréal, Martine est convaincue qu'une quatrième victime décèdera.

From USA Today Bestselling Author, P.D. Workman! A cold case for Erin!

The trouble with solving murders in a little town like Bald Eagle Falls is that everybody knows about it, and then they expect you to solve their cases too. When Bella brings a new—or rather a cold—case to Erin, she protests that she is not a detective. But Bella really needs her; how could an old woman just have gone missing without anyone following up on it? How could they just accept Ezekiel's assertion that his wife was fine and she was just off visiting. Eventually, that excuse must have worn out.

Meanwhile, a blast from Erin's own past—a foster sister Erin would rather not see again—shows up, bringing with her another set of complications. Not only is Erin creating frozen treat, but she is helping Bella with a cold case this time. (Yes the author did the play on words, not me). This cold case is interesting since no one is around to help figure out what happen. None of my theories as I was reading came anywhere near being close to what happen. Love it when I cannot figure out the book till the end. Like baking mysteries? Cats, dogs, and other pets? Award-winning and USA Today Bestselling Author P.D.
