The Three Stages to Public Speaking Mastery Aug 07 2020 When most people begin learning public speaking they don't know where to start. Do they start by learning how to project their voice and how to develop a good posture? Do they start by learning how to overcome their fear of public speaking? Or do they start by learning how to write speeches? In The Three Stages to Public Speaking Mastery we take you through a step by step process. We treat learning public speaking as a journey with three key stages: The first stage is the character development stage. The public speaking journey does not begin the moment you stand on stage to deliver a speech. Nor does it begin when you start writing and practicing a speech. It begins when you make a decision to start working on your inner self. In this stage we consider: - how to develop the mindset of a public speaker - how to overcome the fear of public speaking - how to speak from the heart The second stage is the speech preparation stage. There is a common misconception about public speaking - many people think that speeches require little preparation. The truth is, public speaking requires significant preparation and practice. No-one is born a natural speaker. In this stage we share tips on: - how to write a speech - how to make a speech easy to understand - how to practice your speech The third stage is the speech delivery stage. This is often what many people think of when they want to learn public speaking. However, success in this stage relies upon a strong foundation - a well developed character together with a well prepared speech. In this stage we share: - how to have a captivating voice - how to have an engaging eye contact - how to use body language effectively We have written this book with the following philosophy in mind: "make sure the ideas are deep yet easy to grasp." We didn't want to state the obvious but at the same time we didn't want the book to be difficult to read. The Art of Public Speaking Oct 21 2021 ACQUIRING CONFIDENCE BEFORE AN AUDIENCE There is a strange sensation often experienced in the presence of an audience. It may proceed from the gaze of the many eyes that turn upon the speaker, especially if he permits himself to steadily return that gaze. Most speakers have been conscious of this in a nameless thrill, a real something, pervading the atmosphere, tangible, evanescent, indescribable. All writers have borne testimony to the power of a speaker's eye in impressing an audience. This influence which we are now considering is the reverse of that picture--the power _their_ eyes may exert upon him, especially before he begins to speak: after the inward fires of oratory are fanned into flame the eyes of the audience lose all terror.
