Rising China and Its Postmodern Fate Nov 25 2022 China's sense of today and its view of tomorrow are both rooted in the past--and we need to understand that connection, says China scholar Charles Horner. In Rising China and Its Postmodern Fate, Horner offers a new interpretation of how China's changed view of its modern historical experience has also changed China's understanding of its long intellectual and cultural tradition. Spirited reevaluations of history, strategy, commerce, and literature are cooperating--and competing--to define the future. The capstone of modern China was the founding of the People's Republic in 1949 and its rejection of Confucianism, capitalism, and modernity. Yet today's rising China retains few vestiges of what Mao wrought. What then, Horner asks, is post-Mao, postmodern China? Where did it come from? How did it get here? Where is it going? Contemporary views of the great periods in Chinese history are having a significant influence on the development of rising China's national strategy, says Horner. He looks at the revival of interest in, and changing interpretations of, three dynasties--the Yuan (1272-1368), the Ming (1368-1644), and the Qing (1644-1912)--that, together with the People's Republic of China, provide examples of great power success. The future of every major country is now connected to China's, and this book explains how China, now seeing itself as the complex and thriving result of the old and the new, is poised to change the world.

Deep Truth Dec 27 2022 The Crisis: Best-selling author and visionary scientist Gregg Braden suggests that the hottest topics that divide us as families, cultures, and nations--seemingly disparate issues such as war, terrorism, abortion, genocide, poverty, economic collapse, climate change, and nuclear threats--are actually related. They all stem from a worldview based upon the false assumptions of an incomplete science. The History: The obsolete beliefs of our modern worldview have brought us to the brink of disaster and the loss of all that we cherish as a civilization. Our reluctance to accept new discoveries about our relationship to the earth, one another, and our ancient past keeps us locked into the thinking that has led to the crises threatening our lives today. The Facts: The scientific method allows for, and expects, new information to be revealed and assimilated into our existing beliefs. It's the updating of scientific knowledge with the new facts from new discoveries that is the key to keeping science honest, current, and meaningful. To continue teaching science that is not supported by the new discoveries--ones based upon accepted scientific methods--is not, in fact, scientific. But this is precisely what we see happening in traditional textbooks, classrooms, and mainstream media today. The Opportunity: Explore for yourself the discoveries that change 150 years of scientific beliefs, yet are still not reflected in mainstream thinking, including:

- Evidence of advanced, near-ice age civilizations
- The origin of, and reasons for, war in our ancient past, and why it may become obsolete in our time
- The false assumptions of human evolution and of the Darwinian theory "Let the strongest live and the weakest die" and how this plays out in corporations, societies, warfare, and civilization today

Deep Truth reveals new discoveries that change the way we think about everything from our personal relationships to civilization itself. When the facts become clear, our choices become obvious.

Fate's Illusion Apr 26 2020 The gods want her dead. The feeling is mutual. Lexi hates the gods. Their arrogance. Their disregard for life. Their oppressive rule. Her father, Hades, is no exception. But since his brothers imprisoned him in a labyrinth, he and Lexi share a common goal—destroying the other gods. To free him, she must enlist the help of a loyal and gorgeous hellhound, and an obnoxious but sexy hero. No one warned her about the trials that await. The void that threatens to consume her. The rampaging champion who can kill her with a single blow. And the ex who's looking for vengeance of the fatal variety. And they definitely left out the details about fated love. Twice over. Now Lexi must decide what she's willing to surrender to defeat opponents who will sacrifice humanity before they'll forfeit their power.

The Final Order Dec 03 2020 "The past controls us in many ways. It affects the way we live in the present and the decisions we may make in the future. It lives in our dreams and our memories. It can't be forgotten. It can't be erased. One man tried but the past came back, uninvited and seeking revenge..." After a traumatic childhood event Thomas Lewinsky finds himself estranged from his family. Whilst coming to terms with the fact that they may never meet again fate intervenes sending him on a quest to find them. It will threaten the lives of the people he loves and create a sibling rivalry that will test him to his limit. A new world order is on the rise and Thomas Lewinsky will inadvertently be caught right in the middle of it. Can he survive the ultimate test of right and wrong when his childhood has been cruelly interrupted and his moral compass skewed. The Final Order is the first book in a three part trilogy series.

The Opposite of Fate Feb 26 2023 Delve into the stories from Amy Tan's life that inspired bestselling novels like The Joy Luck Club and The Valley of Amazement and the new memoir, Where the Past Begins Amy Tan has touched millions of readers with haunting and sympathetic novels of cultural complexity and profound empathy. With the same spirit and humor that characterize her acclaimed novels, she now shares her insight into her own life and how she escaped the curses of her past to make a future of her own. She takes us on a journey from her childhood of tragedy and comedy to the present day and her arrival as one of the world's best-loved novelists. Whether recalling arguments with her mother in suburban California or introducing us to the ghosts that inhabit her computer, The Opposite of Fate offers vivid portraits of choices, attitudes, charms, and luck in action--a refreshing antidote to the world-weariness and uncertainties we all face today.

Prophecy, Fate and Memory in the Early Medieval Celtic World Jul 10 2021 Prophecy, Fate and Memory in the Early and Medieval Celtic World brings together a collection of studies that closely explore aspects of culture and history of Celtic-speaking nations. Non-narrative sources and cross-disciplinary approaches shed new light on traditional questions concerning commemoration, sources of political authority, and the nature of religious identity. Leading scholars and early-career researchers bring to bear hermeneutics from studies of religion and literary criticism alongside more traditional philological and historical methodologies. All the studies in this book bring to their particular tasks an acknowledgement of the importance of religion in the worldview of antiquity and the Middle Ages. Their approaches reflect a critical turn in Celtic studies that has proved immensely productive across the last two decades.

The Memory Trace Mar 18 2022 There was some agreement about what memory traces were not, but little about what actually did characterize the memory trace. Yet models and theories of memory at the time could not help making implicit and often unrecognized assumptions about the memory trace. Originally published in 1982, this title aimed to strengthen the meagre base on which memory theories rested at the time. It challenges old assumptions and introduces new concepts, foremost the notion of singularity, as they become necessary to understand traces adequately. Some research data of the past was found in need of reinterpretation. The result is a new theory of the memory trace.

Memories of Midnight May 08 2021 In THE OTHER SIDE OF MIDNIGHT, they played the ultimate game of love, lust, and death. Now, in MEMORIES OF MIDNIGHT, the survivors meet to play one last time ... Shadowed by tragedy and burdened by amnesia, a beautiful woman desperately tries to return to reality. She is Catherine Douglas, destined to once again challenge the cruel, charismatic power of Constantin Demiris, the Greek shipping tycoon who murdered Catherine's husband. Now, in the glittering capitals and carefree playgrounds of post-war Europe, Demiris sets his deadly sights on Catherine -- and the single, treacherous secret whose shattering truth is known to her alone ... -- from <http://www.google.com> (August 27, 2013).

The Opposite of Fate Jan 28 2023 The author reflects on her family's Chinese American legacy, her experiences as a writer, her survival of natural disasters, and her struggle to manage three family members afflicted with brain disease.

Deciding Fate Jul 22 2022 After twenty five years of marriage Mona and Joseph finds themselves separated in life as well as in purgatory after waking up in a strange but familiar place after having a horrific accident. As they frantically look for answers and one another, they hit a crossroad when Mona's mother and Joseph's father greets them to see if the love their kids once had was still there. As they find themselves in different rooms with a balcony and a view of the beach, they learn how to open up a porthole to see visions and memories of their past life and what their loved one was going through as they were living a life on their own. Even though Joseph and Mona learns a new way of life when Joseph's work takes him away from Mona months at a time, they come to realize how hard it becomes when they sit with their parent that they lost years ago, and watch the events unfold for the other one. During the time spent in purgatory watching memories and trying to find how to reconnect with a love that had been lost over time, they meet a soldier and his wife that help show the couple that they aren't alone when it comes to a long distant marriage. Still not knowing the other one is in a room right next to the other there is always that question where the other one is, and if they were alright after the accident. When Mona and Joseph question their parent on when they get to go back to their life on earth they are told that it is up to them to decide their own fate.

Changing Fate Through Reincarnation Jan 22 2020 In "Changing Fate Through Reincarnation," author Gerald Sze explores the theory of reincarnation connectivity. He provides a philosophical survey of the implications of reincarnation as they pertain to human responsibility, freedom, karma, fate and spirituality. Adopting a multidisciplinary approach, the book challenges us to re-evaluate what we are doing at any moment, to re-think what is our purpose in life, and ultimately, to re-live our very existence! While "Changing Fate Through Reincarnation" delves into many philosophical underpinnings behind our thirst for "Who Am I?" and "What is Fate?" it is also a practical self-help book, using the simple technique of instant self-reflection to raise readers' awareness of their own thoughts and emotions for self-understanding and growth.

Kissing Fate Oct 13 2021 Heaven screwed with the wrong girl. In their lust to destroy me, the angels made a grave mistake. They chose Zane Bradley to be the hand of their twisted justice. The guy who chose to be Death in a bid to try to save me from their wrath. It took them ten years to eradicate the memory of why he chose to become Death. Ten long years to brainwash my boyfriend into believing I am the enemy. Ten years to convince him he was justified in reaping me. I waited ten years to see him again, but this was not the reunion I had hoped for. Can I break through the wall between Heaven and his memories before he kills me? Or will I end up on the wrong side of the reaper realm, at the angels' mercy? If Heaven wins this battle, not only will I lose all that I love, the world will understand the true meaning of End of Times.

Intertwined by Fate Nov 01 2020 Do you remember your dreams? Did you ever have a dream so real it felt like a memory? If the memories are painful, will you still want to remember them? Sometimes, being able to forget is such a blessing. An unknown entity left behind a trail of dead bodies and Rameshwar is left with nothing except to curse his fate. More and more questions and mysteries continue to surround him. This is a story about a person who failed at everything. All he wished was to break inanimate objects instead of the promises he made. Nothing can be more painful than losing your loved ones! But when you lose something, is that the end of it? Is there no way to turn back things to the way they were? Uncover a dark secret that spans many decades and will take you on a serpentine adventure involving mysterious findings, nerve-wracking dreams, and a deadly encounter with an unknown entity in a place of its choosing.

Memories of Arcadia (ReMade Season 1 Episode 13) Mar 25 2020 You live. You love. You Die. Now RUN. ReMade is a thrilling sci-fi adventure that will take readers past the boundaries of time, space, and even death. This is the 13th episode of ReMade, a 15-episode serial from Serial Box Publishing. This episode was written by Andrea Phillips. Arcadia knows what it means to be lonely; she's had no visitors for an awfully long time. So when a group of haggard teens tumble unto her streets, she welcomes them with open arms and plays host the best she can remember. Of course, they have no idea she's there watching, listening, helping. But she doesn't mind – after all, hers is half lost anyway. ReMade Season One: In one moment the lives of twenty-three teenagers are forever changed, and it's not just because they all happen to die. "ReMade" in a world they barely recognize – one with robots, space elevators, and unchecked jungle – they must work together to survive. They came from different places, backgrounds, and families, and now they might be the last people on earth. Lost meets The Maze Runner in this exciting serial adventure.

A Soldier's Fate Through the Guidance of God (HC) Dec 23 2019 A Soldier's Fate Through the Guidance of God By: Jim Kyzer This memoir captures the memories of a son, father, and American soldier. In it, Kyzer recounts his days as a youth in the '40s and '50s in the South. As he enters adulthood, the conflict in Viet Nam begins to escalate, and he finds himself in the middle of combat, moving up through the ranks, retiring from the Army at the rank of Command Sergeant Major (CSM) after 26 years. His experiences in the military, at home and abroad, are described in detail, as life with family also becomes complicated. Writing this book helped the author to heal from post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD). Through writing and remembering, Kyzer realized what a blessing faith in God can be.

Opposite of Fate Aug 23 2022 With the same spirit, humor, and magic that characterize her beloved novels, Tan presents a refreshing antidote to the world-weariness and uncertainties listeners face today, contemplating how things happen in her own life and beyond.

Memories of Victorian London (Classic Reprint) Jun 28 2020 Excerpt from Memories of Victorian London May I dare to hope that a few words of preface to this book of "Memories" will hold my readers' attention for a moment, as it is very necessary that they should be written? In my former volume of "Recollections," no reference was made to certain episodes which must always rank among the great days of my life, yet which did not fit in with the general tenor of that book. They had an interest all their own. They could not be dismissed with a passing tribute. They merited more - much more. They haunted me in many a lonely Highland glen, or by the waters of some lapping lake - and the time seems now come when they can be put on record. For it was my happy fate to be from time to time, from early youth onwards, the guest of a beloved relation, to me as a sister, in her London home, where she was the centre of a singularly attractive circle. Albeit a rich and handsome young married woman with abundance of energy and leisure, she cared nothing for gay society, but sought and was sought by many either already prominent in the world of letters, or destined to become so. The Memories of Ana Calderón Aug 11 2021 Now available for the first time in paperback, The Memories of Ana Calderón is the fictional memoir of a talented woman, born in tradition-bound rural Mexico, who comes to the United States and greater opportunity only to find that here, too, society, family, and religion seem to conspire to hold her back. In order to succeed Ana must give up all that she holds dear. She must remake herself into a rootless and obsessed individual. But even after accomplishing this, fate still conspires to wound her. Ana Calderón has will, guts, and intelligence, but her battle against family, church, and the justice system shakes our belief in the ability to forge our own destinies. The Memories of Ana Calderón is a second novel by the writer who The New York Times Book Review hailed as one who "leaves the reader with that special hunger that can be created only by a newly discovered writer. Ms. Limón's prose is self-assured and engrossing."

Memories of a Friend (Classic Reprint) Sep 11 2021 Excerpt from Memories of a Friend These Memories were begun many years ago as a personal record of a life-long friendship. There was never a thought of publication, which indeed the intimacy of the simple details seemed to forbid. Additions were made from time to time, and what was begun as a sketch of early days now presents in outline many of the salient points of a life. The manuscript was always left among other special papers, subject to any changes the years might bring, and addressed to Emily Eames Macveagh. Fate's Fray Feb 23 2020 In the land of Karnath, the human kingdom Sergros is headed for ruin. Winter came early, the crops failed, the storehouse is running low, and soon there will be no food. For months, the weather has been stuck in a perpetual state of gloom, and some Sergrothians fear that their impending doom can only mean that the Dark Prophecy is finally coming true. But a young knight of Sergros named X'ieth Armstrong dreams of changing the prophecy and becoming the new Sergrothian hero.

Unexpectedly, his wants of heroism are put to the test when the king hands him a surprise mission to slay the powerful sorceress behind chaos in Sergros. Yet, little does X'ieth know, his ensuing quest is anything but what seems, possibly being the world's end and that of time itself!

Skin Hunger Feb 02 2021 Ava should be living her dream as the drummer for Escaping Indigo. The problem is, she's secretly in love with her bandmate, Tuck. But he's fallen for someone else. Being a drummer is still the best, but for Ava, every day is also a reminder of what she can't have. With her grandmother moving into assisted living, Ava figures it's a good time to head home and help out. And if it lets her get some distance from Tuck and his girlfriend, all the better. But Ava hasn't visited her family in years, and home isn't really home anymore. Instead, it's the place she's been running from, full of memories of everything her parents wanted for her--and everything she didn't want for herself. But on the airplane, Ava meets Cara, and the two women feel an immediate connection. And when they bump into each other a second time, it seems like fate. Cara offers Ava something she's never had--someone to love who loves her back. But to be with Cara, Ava may have to change her whole life around, and that's something she's not sure she's ready for.

Memory Symphony—Chronicles and Interludes of the Fate of Georgian Jews Feb 14 2022 Otar Sepiashvili – movie critic, scenarist, journalist, essayist, an outstanding contributor to the Georgian cultural landscape, and the author of numerous magazine articles, as well as fourteen books, three of which, such as Time and the Big Screen (1969), War on the Big Screen (1975), Charlie – A Small Man?, No, A Hero! (1991) were awarded the First Prize by the Cinematographic Union in the “Critical Analysis and Theory of Cinema”. He was one of the pioneers of professional movie criticism in Georgia and was responsible for its popularization in different forms of media, such as print periodicals and television. Following graduation from the University, he started working for the newspaper Tbilisi, and the magazine Soviet Art. In 1959 he became a member of the Soviet Journalist Union, in 1960 joined the Union of Soviet Cinematographers. For 12 years he presided over the “Critical Analysis and Theory of Cinema” department of the Union of Georgian Cinematographers. He was also a member of the popular science cinematography committee of the Union of the Soviet Cinematographers, the governing committee of the Journalist Union of Tbilisi, and the editorial board of the publishing house known as Art. For thirty years he taught the art of cinema at the Tbilisi University. He was the first in the Georgian press to become an accredited correspondent to the international cinematographic forums and the first to write reviews about movie festivals in Moscow, Cannes, Venice, and Delhi. In 1969 he became the chief editor for the Georgian State Television. There he organized editorial teams that were focused on tasks that were responsible for daily TV programming. He led this team for 26 years, during which he created many popular TV shows, especially the famous weekly Illusion, which he authored and anchored himself, airing over 750 episodes. His scripts were used for 10 documentaries and TV movies, among them was the three part film Movie and Years, and Time for Gathering Stones, both of which were filmed in Israel in 1989. In 1996 he moved to New York where he currently resides and works for the Georgian and Russian press. In 2002 “Megilat Ester” and in 2005 a collection of historical-journalistic essays “Memory: Symphony – Chronicles and Intermediary or the Faith of Georgian Jews” were published in New York.

Bound by Hope Jun 08 2021 As seventy-eight-year-old Penelope Daos watches the waves crash along the beach beside her Long Island home, she reminisces about her past. Her mind is full of secrets she kept from everyone, including her late husband and her family. These secrets have haunted her for the past fifty-eight years. She wonders if her children and grandchildren will believe her story. Is it possible to accept that pirates and treasure exist outside of fairytales? Could a summer love be so strong it would save Stavro and Penelope? Or will they be destined to perish at the hands of the thieves of Chios? This novel for teens follows Penelope through her journal filled with detailed memories of the adventures, love, demise, and heartbreak she experienced at the age of twenty in 1957 on a little island in Greece called Chios. It was the most beautiful view I had ever seen. The neighboring mountains stood tall and strong across from the one we were on. In the distance, right where one mountains edge met another's, I could see the ocean; a deep blue Aegean dotted with white specks here and there from the menacing white caps. The mountains were layered with rows of mastic and olive trees. Grays and browns colored the petrified mountainous terrain. The breeze seemed to whistle through the space between them ... I turned to look at Stavro; his eyes set on the view ahead. He seemed to be at peace again.

Strings of Fate Apr 06 2021 “Deirdre Dore deftly weaves together a blood-chilling mystery and a sizzling-hot romance. Strings of Fate is a captivating debut!” —Laura Griffin, New York Times bestselling author In the first novel in a gripping romantic suspense trilogy, a yoga instructor unintentionally lures a serial killer to her small town and finds herself falling for the sexy FBI agent sent to hunt him down. Christina Pascal has never had a real job...or a real boyfriend. When she isn't teaching yoga or attending classes, she is either getting paid to invent fake relationships for people on the Internet, or she is working to solve cold cases in her hometown of Fate, Georgia—a town tainted by haunting memories of the past. Christina and her best friends, Tavey and Raquel, were only children when their best friend disappeared—a crime that remains unsolved. Now, sixteen years later, the three friends are hoping to uncover some clues about their friend and other missing children. But what Christina doesn't realize is that her search for the missing has attracted the attention of a serial killer, and he is using fake identities to lure in his victims. Now, Christina fears that she could be his next target. To complicate matters, a gorgeous FBI agent, Ryan Helmer, is sent in to help Christina with the case, but she doesn't know whether she can trust him, especially when their sizzling chemistry jeopardizes the case...

The Twisted Fate Oct 01 2020 What if you are stuck between two choices that will be life changing? Which one will you choose, do the one that will forever end your problem and give you peace of mind or simply do nothing as you and your family fall into the never-ending abyss of misery? Nick, Lisa, and their mom, Angela, have to make a decision quick as every day becomes more difficult to deal with Davis. One day Davis is killed, and the family is in deep water. Dealing with the death of her husband, Angela is devastated; she tries to hold on to her last memories of him, but most of them are hurtful. Nick alienates himself from his mother and sister and indulges in marijuana; on the other hand, Lisa is trying to stay strong for her brother and mother as she struggles to keep the family from tearing apart. Everyone tries to prove their innocence as time closes in on the real culprit. With only three of the family members present during the murder, who can it be? Who has been pushed to the limit? Who has twisted everyone's fate? Is it Nick, Lisa, or their mom?
