Questions Are the Answer Apr 30 2023 2018 Nautilus Book Awards Silver Winner What if you could unlock a better answer to your most vexing problem—in your workplace, community, or home life—just by changing the question? Talk to creative problem-solvers and they will often tell you, the key to their success is asking a different question. Take Debbie Sterling, the social entrepreneur who created GoldieBlox. The idea came when a friend complained about too few women in engineering and Sterling wondered aloud: "why are all the great building toys made for boys?" Or consider Nobel laureate Richard Thaler, who asked: "would it change economic theory if we stopped pretending people were rational?" Or listen to Jeff Bezos whose relentless approach to problem solving has fueled Amazon's exponential growth: "Getting the right question is key to getting the right answer." Great questions like these have a catalytic quality—that is, they dissolve barriers to creative thinking and channel the pursuit of solutions into new, accelerated pathways. Often, the moment they are voiced, they have the paradoxical effect of being utterly surprising yet instantly obvious. For innovation and leadership guru Hal Gregersen, the power of questions has always been clear—but it took some years for the follow-on question to hit him: If so much depends on fresh questions, shouldn't we know more about how to arrive at them? That sent him on a research quest ultimately including over two hundred interviews with creative thinkers. Questions Are the Answer delivers the insights Gregersen gained about the conditions that give rise to catalytic questions—and breakthrough insights—and how anyone can create them.

Solutions Manual for Techniques of Problem Solving Feb 26 2023 This manual contains solutions to most of the exercises in the book Techniques of Problem Solving by Steven G. Krantz. It is essential that this manual be used only as a reference, and never as a way to learn how to solve the exercises. It is strongly encouraged never to look up the solution of any exercise before attempting to solve it. The 'attempt time' will always be as rewarding to the student-or maybe more-as solving the exercise itself.

The Answer Is in the Problem: Jan 16 2022 In these Talks, given in Europe, Ojai and India, Krishnamurti addresses the need to approach our life problems in a manner does not perpetuate fragmentation. "Though we have many problems, and each problem seems to produce so many other problems, perhaps we can consider together whether the wisest thing to do is, not to seek the solution of any problem at all. It seems to me that our minds are incapable of dealing with life as a whole; we deal, apparently, with all problems fragmentarily, separately, not with an integrated outlook. Perhaps the first thing, if we have problems, is not to seek an immediate solution for them, but to have the patience to inquire deeply into them, and discover whether these problems can ever be solved by the exercise of will. What is important, I think, is to find out, not how to solve the problem, but how to approach it." An extensive compendium of Krishnamurti's talks and discussions in the USA, Europe, India, New Zealand, and South Africa from 1933 to 1967—the Collected Works have been carefully authenticated against existing transcripts and tapes. Each volume includes a frontispiece photograph of Krishnamurti, with question and subject indexes at the end. The content of each volume is not limited to the subject of the title, but rather offers a unique view of Krishnamurti's extraordinary teachings in selected years. The Collected Works offers the reader the opportunity to explore the early writings and dialogues in their most complete and authentic form.

A Different New Sort of City: An Answer to the Big Problem Facing Facing Britain Today Jan 22 2020 This book proposes a new sort of economically-viable city of several million inhabitants to counter-balance the over-population and economic imbalance caused by over-concentration on London and the south east, which is creating problems for that area and also for the rest of the UK. New construction methods using innovative land-moulding techniques and incorporation of large structures such as redundant oil rigs are proposed. Financing and business aspects, housing, education, transport, security and leisure activities are all addressed, and responded to by proposals that often question and challenge current thinking in politics, town planning and transport, which is shown to be wasteful of resources and to exacerbate current problems, making things worse rather than better. Practical innovative solutions and visionary answers are provided that should stimulate fresh thinking and action in planning the future of the UK.
